“ I was very, very young and very easily influenced by my older brother, Brian. I remember the day, as the day I learned to paint, with a broom and some mud. If it wasn't for my giggles, we would never have been caught. My mom said the sound of my giggles is what brought her looking for us. We were next door at our neighbors, brown washing the side of their house. Neighbors were not home, she and Brian has enough time to clean the walls before they did come home. I was sent home after a few pa'i. I still giggle, in fact we would all giggle about it.

I miss him, my protector, my older brother, the 3rd musketeer.
