I met Melody about 50 years ago. She was a new arrival to Hawaii and she was living in an apartment in the same building we did. Those were the days. We had fun, we learned together about adulthood and life. Such a good hearted person. I'm still in disbelief. I googled Melody after seeing her son on television. It's been 5 or 6 years since I last saw Melody. She spoke of her son's with such great pride.

“ *Melody,
It's been a month today since your passing.
How time goes by so quickly. There aren't enough words to express how much I miss you and how empty my life is without you. I long to hear your laughter.
I had a canvas print for my wall made. It is a heart in the sand near the waters edge with the names Elizabeth & Melody 2020 in the middle of it. There are two sets of footprints on the beach with palm trees in the distance. It pays tribute to the day you joined our loving Mother in Heaven and the love of the beach in Hawaii you both loved.
I miss you so.
Love, Jeannie

“ My Dearest sister, Melody,
My heart is forever broken with your passing. My world is so empty and lonely without you. I miss our daily phone calls that lasted three or four hours. Our chats of life and the going on of things in our lives. The memories we reflected on over the years and our many joys of trading recipes and shopping stories. Our many talks about our beautiful, loving mother that we miss so dearly. Our encouragement for each other as we struggled with whatever was going on in our lives and always being there for each other. Laughing about the adventures we had together, our sister's trip through California, my 60th birthday bash at the Santa Cruz beach house with those family members we loved, the hours of shopping trips looking for the perfect things we needed for my daughter Elizabeth and Jennifer's weddings, our motel suite escapades we shared for the weddings. The craft ideas we shared. As I look around my house and all the beach decorations that you gave me to decorate. Every year at Christmas I put up my beach themed Christmas tree adorned with the many beach ornaments you sent, it brings such pleasure. Everyone who sees it admires it and says it should be in a store window.

The awesome memory of yours to recall anything and everything, bringing back so many joys and tears of the past. Your kindness and generous giving, loving and thoughtful ways to me and all those around you. I never knew what was going to arrive in my mail box or be delivered. We would chat and you had this hearing of everything said and made mental notes and all of sudden something we talked about would arrive and surprise me.

You had the gift of listening, caring and bringing so much joy and knowing how to do all you could do to uplift and brighten so many lives. You put others before yourself.

I miss the days of listening to you and Aka's antics as you and I spoke on the phone. He adored you so and wanted all your attention.

The miles between us was always hard for me but the comfort of knowing you were just a phone call away brightened my days. The sound of your soothing, gentle voice I miss so much. It's such a deafening silence everyday now. I wait everyday for my phone to ring and to feel the joy your calls would bring.

I love you so and miss you more than words could say. I know you are no longer suffering and that you are wrapped in the loving arms once again of our Mother.
I thank you for the years we shared and the love and care you bestowed upon me.
I miss you more than there are words and I will never be the same without you.
I know you and Mom are watching down on me.
I LOVE YOU!
Love, your little sister, Jeannie
